Product Recall: Fort Garry Brewing Select Products

Fort Garry Dark Ale, Pale Ale, Black Pearl Stout, Rouge Lager and Variety Pack affected

Fort Garry Brewing Company has issued a voluntary recall on a number of select beer products in a variety of package sizes of cans and bottles. The recall was prompted after Fort Garry Brewing was alerted to some instances of secondary fermentation, which could cause containers to rupture and the contents to burst.

While there have not been any reported injuries associated with this product safety issue, Fort Garry Brewing has chosen to remove all affected brands from retail sale while they investigate the cause:
